

Superior Court of Sacramento County

Sacramento, California

State Structure

In California, each county is responsible for administering its own detention and probation services. Juvenile probation departments are part of the county government structure and are accountable to each county's Board of Supervisors. With the exception of San Francisco, each of California's 58 counties has a probation department that handles both adults and juveniles. San Francisco has separate departments for adults and juveniles; the adult probation department reports through the Superior Court, while juvenile probation reports through the Mayor's Office and an appointed Commission. The California Department of Corrections and Rehabilitation, Division of Juvenile Justice (DJJ) is the state-level corrections agency responsible for providing services to the most serious juvenile offenders in facilities and on parole.

Upper, Lower, and Extended Age of Jurisdiction

State	Delinquency			Status (Wards of the Court)
	Lower age	Upper age	Extended age	Lower age	Upper age
California	None specified	17	25	None specified	17

Status Offenses

Status offense cases are classified as wards of the court. Habitual refusal to obey parents or guardians, being beyond the control of parents or guardians, and violation of a curfew ordinance are status offense behaviors.

These statistics are estimates that account for missing data and may differ from other published sources. The county-level files which are the source of this information are not official FBI releases and are being provided for research purposes.

The Coverage Indicator refers to the relative size of the sample from which these estimates are based. A coverage indicator of 90% means that data covering 10% of the jurisdiction's population are estimated and that data from 90% of the jurisdiction's population are based on actual reports. Only jurisdictions with a coverage indicator at or above 90% are displayed in this application.
